

The Shumaker Technology Group

I have been lucky enough to be able to work at the Shumaker Technology group for the past 10 months. I knew I wanted to get some real business experience under my belt before I graduated and was given the opportunity to be a sales and marketing agent at the Shumaker Technology Group. The time that I spent here gave me the experience that I expected and even more.

One of the great things about working at STG is how immersive the internship really is. At the Shumaker Technology group you are given the opportunity to take on real projects and be an integral part of the success of the company. You are not treated like just any intern, you have a big say and hand in the company as soon as you step into the door. A lot of responsibility is given to you which certainly challenges you, but is rewarding at the end.

Every day is a new different day at STG. One day you can be working in the office perusing new business opportunities and the next day you may be out in the field showing off the product that you are trying to sell. Also, you are given several exciting opportunities to travel to different events across the state of Michigan and even the country. Working at a small business allows you to wear multiple hats, and get a great insight on what goes into running a successful business.

Overall, if you are looking for a place to work where you can really immerse yourself and develop yourself as a business professional, I highly recommend interviewing with Shumaker Technology Group. For myself, through the business events, in office work, and on the field work STG has built me into a confident business professional.

Sincerely,
